

Any Queries? Charlotte Cooper
Time Out March 12-19, 2003

Name? Charlotte Cooper

Age? 34

Job title? In no order:
Author, Journalist, Zine-Monkey, boss of CharlotteCooper.net.

First job? Saturday girl at the Spastics Society charity shop in Wembley.

Best thing about your present job? I'm the queen of me.

Worst thing about your job? Cabin-fever, cash-flow, self-doubt, the usual stuff.

What brought you to London? Dad's secret work as a spy.

Favourite place to eat? Jai Krishna on Stroud Green Road have been frying my bhajis for ten years. Yum.

To drink? Any overpriced, ultra-chic, minimalist cocktail lounge is good by me.

To be merry? A quick steam at York Hall baths followed by The Imperial Pop Museum at s.m.e.r.s.h would be just perfect.

Best hangover cure? Coca Cola, the Devil's brew.

Best thing about gay London? It's a tacky, ridiculous, jaw-droppingly awful wonderland.

Worst thing about gay London? Some of the lesbians get on my nerves.

When and where were you happiest? Just now, singing along to Johnny Cash in the car.

Last person to see you naked? A creepy, over-friendly woman in the changing rooms at Atherton leisure centre.

Complete the following: "Life would be perfect if..." I had a hot-shot agent pulling in megabucks book deals for me
